shipping wood alcohol whiskey to Hariford on Dec. 20.

Col. Daniel L. Porter, supervising revenue agent of this district, assured Mr. Creeton that the Federal authorities will ald in the prosecution on manulaughter charges of all persons charged with implication in the sale of wood alcohol whiskey. The case of Panarelli was the first taken up begause he has turned State's evidence. Mr. Creeton said he expects to ask for the extradition of others accused by Panarelli of baying aided on shipping the poisonous whiskey to Hartford. Col. Porter assigned a special force of forty revenue agents to-day to inspect all plants manufacturing perfumeries, colognes, hair tenies, flavoring extracts and other liquids the action instituted by the City of New manufacture of which is allowed by law with non-beverage alcohol as a base.
